

Pyrenees White Water Kayaking

Why paddle in the Pyrenees? Since visiting the Pyrenees some years ago i was just taken back by tranquillity and the outstanding natural beauty of this whole area. Spiking the skyline for over £430km the French/Spanish boarder with peaks over 3400m is a sight to behold and still takes my breath away every time I see it. The weather can be very hot but the landscape green as we are still in the backdrop of the mountains. The town of Sort where you will be stopping is the activity centre of the Spanish Pyrenees with bars and cafes to watch the world go by and several excellent restaurants showcasing some of the best of Catalonia's proud culinary traditions. So if you want warm sunshine, reliable white water and cheap food and wine then this is for you.

The Rivers We will be stopping in the valley of the river Noguera Pallaresa which is no doubt the largest river in the Pyrenees over 50 kilometres it is dam controlled with regular daily releases right up to the end of September. The Pallaresa is fun, fun, fun with multiple sections at a friendly grade 2 with some grade 3 (It even has a spectacular gorge section). In the past it has seen world famous freestyle and Rodeo events at its slalom site in Sort (where you will be stopping). Along with the Pallarasa we have some excellent smaller more technical rivers in the area which have a more Alpine and steeper feel about them. . Pre reqs are that you should be happy on grade 2/3. (example Dart loop, Lower Tryweryn etc) If you have a WW roll great! if not don't worry.

Dates 5th -12th September 2020.

Accommodation & Location You will be stopping south of the Andorra region (Spanish side) of the Pyrenees in a small town called Sort or close to. Your accommodation will be a self-catering style chalet or apartment in town where there are plenty of shops (supermarkets) bars and restaurants there is even a Kayak shop. As we are also on the Spanish side so the cost of living is a lot cheaper than the French side for food, wine and beer. There is also an option to camp as well where i can reduce the trip price for you. (own camping equipment required).

Cost £675 pp this price includes excellent self-catering accommodation and all Guiding.

Or £575 for camping only and guiding

Not Included is travel, personal insurance and food and drink.

Travel by car. Jump on the Euro tunnel or ferry Dover to Calais then drive down through France to the Spanish border crossing beautiful mountain passes to Sort. This takes about 12 hours (None stop) and you will have to pay some French motorway tolls as you journey down through France. However, the motorways are by far the quickest route. You can avoid the motorways and tolls but this will increase your time and fuel.

Travel by Air If you don't fancy sitting in a car for 12 hours then you can fly over yourself. British Airways, Easy jet and Bmi Baby all fly to Toulouse which is the nearest city to the location being about 150km away where you can hire a car to complete your journey.

Equipment It is best if you can try and bring a creek or river running kayak along with a good white-water helmet (No cheap £30 helmets please) solid footwear. BA and deck. As for clothing as mentioned the Pyrenees can be super-hot and i have found myself in a normal cag or my shorty cag and three-quarter paddling strides or shorts most of the time. Occasionally it can thunderstorm so prepare for some warmer inners as well. I think a drysuit would be overkill. I have also included a kit list; see below

Personal Insurance It is essential that you take out proper insurance that covers you for rescue and medical expense as an accident and medical care can be very costly. There are a number of specialist insurances you can use who cover kayaking and rescue and loss of equipment.

Your Instructors I will be your main guide/coach and i have been in the industry now for over 20 years I hold the highest British Canoeing level 5 coaching award so rest assured with my experience you will be well looked after. I work on a 1,4 ratio with no more on my own, this allows plenty of instructional time and feedback. If I get more than 4 wanting to sign up then I will hire in another guide/coach from my A team that I regularly use who are very professional and highly qualified leaders/coaches. They also have a good knowledge of the rivers you will be paddling.

Guidebooks and Maps for the area There only seems to be one English translated guidebook for the area which is "White Water Pyrenees by Patrick Santal" however this guide is now very dated and i have found it not to be that reliable on river descriptions, access & egress. My own local knowledge is far better.

Maps; There are detailed Mountain maps for the area, however these are best to be purchased whilst over there and for a general map that shows put ins/take outs I have a Michelin 1/400.000 Cataluna/Andorra map which seems to do the job.
